

A DUBLIN WELCOME AWAITS

Discover Dublin

Dublin is a warm and welcoming city, known for the friendliness of its people. Pubs (where much of the city's social life is conducted), cafés, and restaurants abound, and Irish musicality rarely allows silence. Dublin home to many iconic historic sites—such as the narrow and winding streets of the Temple Bar, the Ha'penny Bridge, Dublin Castle, Trinity College and of course the Guinness Storehouse.

The Temple Bar, quite possibly one of the most iconic bars in all of Dublin, the history of the bar dates back to the early 1300s.

The Guinness Storehouse tour takes you through seven floors of Irish brewing history, where you will learn how the beloved stout beer is meticulously crafted to perfection.

Enjoy a tour of the city, visit Trinity College and the Book of Kells, one of Ireland's greatest cultural treasures.

Irish dancing is performed traditionally with intricate foot work and is most known for the dancers performing with a stiff upper body so that the footwork is accentuated.
